

How to become more involved in Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC)

In addition to your clinical/teaching and research involvement in the area of AAC, you can become more actively involved through the International Society for Augmentative Communication (ISAAC).

1. Join ISAAC if you are not already a member. If you are a member, encourage a colleague to join. Contact ISAAC for membership information via:
 - The website at <https://isaac-online.org/english/about-isaac/members/membership/>
 - by email to membership@isaac-online.org
 - by phone: +1-905-850-6848 x 225
 - by fax: +1-905-850-6852
 - by mail: 312 Dolomite Drive, Suite 216, Toronto, ON M3J 2N2, Canada
2. Submit papers to AAC (see Information for Authors).
3. Send comments concerning AACjournal content to the editors.
4. Participate in our online webinars, presently during the year on a monthly basis.
5. Attend our in-person and virtual conferences. The "Vibes of AAC" Virtual Event was held in October 2024. More than 50 session recordings are available for viewing. Learn more at <https://conference.isaac-online.org/>. Our most recent in-person conference, Conference Cancun, was held during July 2023, and video recordings of select sessions are available for purchase from our website. ISAAC is planning its next virtual event for October 2025.
6. Communicate with ISAAC's elected and appointed leadership about issues of concern and directions you feel ISAAC should be taking. Visit the ISAAC website to find out who currently serves on ISAAC's Executive Board and Council at <https://isaac-online.org/english/about-isaac/organization/>
7. Make a donation. Your support for ISAAC's worldwide efforts to enhance the use of AAC strategies and technology will be immensely valued and appreciated. To do so, visit ISAAC's website at <https://isaac-online.org/english/about-isaac/how-you-can-help/make-a-donation/>
8. Become a volunteer, mentor or peer leader. Expanding the use of AAC worldwide requires dedicated team work and collaborative partnerships. ISAAC has developed a strong network of support around the world. To find out how you can make a difference as a volunteer, mentor or peer leader, please contact the ISAAC International Office at feedback@isaac-online.org

Thank you for your support!
